

JEWEL ISAAC

Matthew Glaze

SUPERINTENDENT / ESTIMATOR

OVERVIEW

Matthew Glaze is a Superintendent and Estimator at Jewel Isaac, LLC, delivering commercial, federal, military, educational, and remote Alaska construction. He runs projects from estimating and procurement through field supervision, scheduling, quality control, and closeout, coordinating subcontractors, owners, and government agencies to keep work safe, on schedule, and within budget. A University of Alaska Fairbanks graduate, he pairs field leadership with estimating and plan-takeoff skill.

EXPERIENCE

Superintendent / Estimator, Jewel Isaac, LLC

2025 - present

Estimates and runs commercial and federal projects from procurement through closeout, including Denali C-Camp dormitory renovations (Aleut), Hooper Bay Catholic Church improvements, the Matt Raymond State Farm office remodel, the Hangar 1 remodel, and the AT&T window and door remodel.

Foreman / Superintendent, Callahan Construction

2024

Supervised field crews on the Tanana Middle School remodel and Fort Wainwright barracks renovations.

Project Manager, GQ Plastering

2020 - 2025

Managed government and commercial projects across California schools and public facilities, including the River Islands School District, leading budgeting, scheduling, owner coordination, subcontractor supervision, and quality control.

Foreman, Aleut Field Services

2020 - 2023

Supervised crews on federal construction and maintenance projects throughout Alaska, overseeing safety, scheduling, logistics, quality control, and field operations.

EDUCATION & CORE SKILLS

- University of Alaska Fairbanks, B.A. (2005). Estimating, procurement, scheduling, and plan reading and takeoffs.
- Commercial, federal, and military construction . quality and safety management . subcontractor coordination . Bluebeam Revu.